

Career Resources for Assisting International Students

Resource	Highlights and Main Features	Other Applicable Populations	Price
Foreign Labor Certification Data Center Flcdatcenter.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary source H1B Visa database produced by the Department of Labor • Useful tool for identifying employers who have previously sponsored international students 	Career service practitioners looking to target international student friendly employers	No fee
Myvisajobs.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • User-friendly employer database which provides information on companies who sponsor various visa types and PRs • Provides forums on taxes, employers, U.S. job market 	NA	No fee; funded through immigration attorney advertisements
Uniworld uniworldbp.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Multinational business database • Contains information on American companies abroad as well as foreign companies in the U.S. • Contains information on over 200 countries • Customizable profile • Also available in print format 	Domestic students looking to work abroad	Subscription based on usage Single search pricing available
Hoover's Academic hoovers.com	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Useful to generate lists of potential employers by industry types, functions, and geographic areas • Comprehensive database for researching U.S. public and private businesses 	Domestic students researching employers	Subscription based on usage Free trial period
ASAE asaecenter.org	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Comprehensive database for researching domestic and international professional associations • Excellent tool for networking and seeking association specific job boards • Contains information on 11,000 organizations 	Domestic students	No fee, however, most professional associations require membership fees
United Way Directory 211.org	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • City/region specific non-profit organization database • Helpful for students seeking volunteer work 	Domestic Students	No fee